Aircraft utilisation

Puchacz & Bocian

- Used mainly for instruction and checks,

May be flown solo by permission of the duty instructor provided that the pilot is fully familiar with the type. Pilots flying the Puchacz must be completely familiar with the stalling & spinning characteristics.

May be flown mutually by club members with the follow provisos:
They must both have at least a Bronze C, and the P1 must have a Silver C. (P1 must be decided before the flight and is solely responsible for the flight).

They must have the permission of the duty instructor, who will not allow mutual flying to interfere with the normal programme.

K6cr

- May be flown by early solo pilots provided that they have had at least six solo flights in a bocian and have the permission of a full rated instructor.

Astir

- May be flown by any solo pilot and has the permission of a full instructor and has log book & record card signed to that effect.
